

Gluten + Intolerances

THREE DESIGNATIONS

Celiac

Non-Celiac Gluten Sensitivity
Wheat and/or Gluten Allergy

- Celiac Disease is an autoimmune condition that affects 1 in 133 people. The lining of the small intestines becomes damaged from gluten consumption, impairing absorption of nutrients into the body.
- Non-Celiac Gluten Sensitivity symptoms can show up days after ingesting gluten containing foods. Symptoms range from headache, depression, anxiety to joint pain, to name a few.
- Wheat/Gluten Allergy sufferers could have an anaphylactic reaction from small amounts of gluten or wheat, which can include trouble breathing and possible need for emergency care.
